New Caregiver Law - 1997 WI Act 27 (Biennial Budget)

On October 1, 1998, a new Wisconsin law went into effect which provides new and stringent checks of the backgrounds of persons who provide care for others or have access to persons receiving care.

Beginning on October 1, 1998, the state of Wisconsin mandated that background checks will be required for all persons who seek to be employed in the caregiving industry and for all persons who want to obtain or renew a license to provide care. By October 1, 1999, all existing employees/contractors and license holders must have fulfilled the caregiver background check requirements.

A completed background check as prescribed under Wisconsin's law includes:

- * A completed self-disclosure Background Information Disclosure form;

- * An electronic status check of professional licenses and credentials through the Department of Regulation and Licensing;
- * An electronic criminal history search from the Wisconsin Department of Justice;
- * An electronic review of records kept by the Department of Health and Family Services for any substantiated findings of abuse or neglect and license restrictions or denials.

Based on the information obtained, additional research may include an out-of-state criminal history search, a tribal court criminal history search, a check of relevant military records or a check of county or other local records.

Once the background research is complete, employers and government agencies are expected to act according to the requirements of the new law coupled with prudent business practices. These new background checks will be used by the state in making employment and licensing decisions since various studies have shown predictable patterns of abuse, neglect and misappropriation. Therefore, a background which includes specific crimes and offenses will effectively exclude individuals from certain employment or prohibit them from obtaining a license to practice certain professions.

Those who wish to obtain more detailed information regarding the new law may do so through accessing the following web site: "www.dhfs.state.wi.us" and click on "News & Initiatives."
